Code Zero PES

Thanks to its non-reflecting film, Code Zero PES offers a very own appearance and a particularly high quality. Its smooth and noticeably flexible surface facilitates the rolling in and out of sails considerably. Not only your crew on the foredeck will appreciate the pleasant handling of Code Zero PES. The advantages are obvious: when setting sails or taking them down again, there is extremely little friction and thus much less stress on the sail itself. At the same time, Code Zero PES keeps impressing with its low-stretch. The black polyester fibres, which give the sail its characteristic and modern lightgrey look, do not only ensure this high quality but also an outstanding UV stability.
