

Storm Orange

If you ever face a storm out on the water this is your reliable companion. Dimension-Polyant's Storm Orange has been designed to meet international safety regulations of the ORC. The extremely robust cloth is a must if you want to be ideally prepared for tough conditions. As the visually probably most outstanding member of our family of coloured cloth, Storm Orange will not only help you to master difficult weather but also significantly increases the chances to be seen by others. Made of a high-tenacity polyester, Storm Orange should be part of every seaworthy yacht's basic safety equipment. As much as in psychology orange is well known as the colour to donate power following physical or psychological exhaustion, Storm Orange comes into play as helpful and powerful assistant in horrendous weather scenarios.
